Counter-Terrorism Obligations

In addition, I would like to draw your attention to the Australian Government's counter-terrorism obligations under United Nations Security Council ("UNSC") resolutions, in particular, Resolution 1267 (1999) and Resolution 1373 (2001) and successor resolutions, and to other sanctions imposed by the UNSC in the furtherance of international peace and security. Australia has implemented these obligations into domestic law. These laws criminalise the provision of direct or indirect support or resources to organisations and individuals associated with terrorism, and make it an offence to make an asset available to an individual or entity that has been designated by the UNSC as being subject to asset freezing measures.

Consequently, as a condition of this funding, your organisation must ensure that no support or resources, including training, is provided to any person or entity listed by the Australian Government as associated with terrorism, to any person or entity otherwise sanctioned by the UNSC, or to any individuals or entities subject to financial restrictions under Australian bilateral sanctions regimes.

Australia's Criminal Code also imposes high penalties of up to 25 years' imprisonment on anyone convicted of intentionally training or receiving training from a terrorist organisation, giving funds to or getting funds from or for a terrorist organisation, or providing support to a terrorist organisation or associating with members of a listed terrorist organisation where the support or association was intended to assist the organisation to expand or exist. An exception to the association offence applies where the association is only for the purpose of providing aid of a humanitarian nature.

You should consult the lists of these terrorist organisations and entities, and lists of other individuals and entities sanctioned under Australian law, at:

- http://www.dfat.gov.au/icat/regulation8_consolidated.xls
- http://www.dfat.gov.au/un/unsc_sanctions/unsc-fs.xls
- <http://www.nationalsecurity.gov.au/agd/www/nationalsecurity.nsf/AllDocs/95FB057CA3DECF30CA256FAB001F7FBD?OpenDocument> and
- http://www.rba.gov.au/MarketOperations/International/FinancialSanctionsCashReporting/consolidated_list_241007.xls

Accordingly, your organisation must take all necessary steps to ensure that funding provided by our office does not end up, directly or indirectly, in the hands of terrorists or terrorist groups or with sanctioned individuals or entities. If, during the course of this project, you discover any link whatsoever with any organisation or individual associated with terrorism or sanctions, you must inform the Australian High Commission immediately.

WEST BENGAL

Dear Yasmin

We would like to invite two representatives from Bamongram Resham Khadi Prathisthan to attend a workshop at the Australian High Commission on 31 May 2013 from 9.30am to 4pm.

The workshop will bring together NGOs that the Australian Government funded under the Direct Aid Program (DAP) in 2011-2012 and 2012-2013.

Participants will be invited to present for five minutes on their DAP project and they will be able to meet representatives from other NGOs and hear about their experiences. In addition to sharing knowledge through exchange, participants will engage in two 'master classes' – one on fundraising and one on developing a promotional campaign.

Through DAP, the Australian Government has provided funding to communities for a wide variety of projects – from providing clean water, to improving healthcare or building libraries. However small these efforts sound, the impact on the lives of beneficiaries can be life-changing.

To capture some of these stories and experiences, we plan to curate an exhibition documenting communities and their responses to these DAP projects. We have enclosed with this letter an 'art kit' containing a disposable camera and other materials that can be used to respond creatively to each DAP project. We have also provided a concept note to give you some creative direction.

We would be grateful if you could confirm your attendance at the workshop and participation in the exhibition by 10 May 2013. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Best wishes
